Hypnagogia

Welcome to Hypnagogia. The psycho-spiritual haze.
The land between lands. The nebulous mindstate between sleep and the waking world, where shapes take on a dream of their own, waiting at bus stops, eager to leave town.

CROW-BLACK JUICE
AND NOW I'M BENT
OVER AGAIN

So WE
GOC

Steve McCabe is a visual artist, poet, and author. He's currently creating GIFs with text (& added images) from his most recent book Meme-Noir. During the lockdown he baked cornbread in a cast-iron skillet, remembering his mother's cooking when he was a boy in the Ozarks. He resides in Toronto.

Marc Cohen is an artist, writer and musician born in the United States and residing in Toronto, Canada. His past work in oil and mixed media on canvas oscillated between figurative and abstract imagery. His current work in pen and ink circles around existentially topical themes like alienation, dislocation and the construction of selfhood in a shifting semantic landscape.

Charles Hackbarth is an artist, writer, musician, energy healer and Tarot card designer. When asked "What do you do?" Hackbarth likes to respond with "I am wrestling a 7 headed beast." Hackbarth is currently working on large scale drawings, collaborative drawing projects, designing a deck of Tarot cards, creating a graphic novel and promoting a collaborative art game he created called DRAWN TOGETHER.

Collaboration and Synergy

Charles Hackbarth and Marc Cohen have been making music together and talking about art for over ten years. In 2016 Charles and Marc attended Steven McCabe's art exhibit where they talked for hours about accordion books, scrolls, and sequential drawing.

In 2018 they went shopping for three sketchbooks. Each artist has contributed his unique style of ink-work to each of these drawings.

Two of the drawings were done by a single artist.
